3rd Grade visits GC's Museum of Natural History

Our 3rd graders contineud their study of Rocks and Fossils by taking a field trip today to the George College Museum of Natural History. This museum is dedicated to earth sciences, emphasizing paleontology- the study of fossils and ancient life. They learned about how fossils are formed and observed different kind of fossils. They also got to experience the planetarium featuring a show about astronomy and the night sky. After the trip, Martha Howington's parents, Chan and Rebecca treated our students to an amazing lunch at the Velvet Elvis!

Plant and Animal Cells

5th graders experienced quite the sugar rush last week after submitting their plant and animal cells to the class. These students dissected and labeled all the parts of plant and animal cells with creative freedom to use candy that represented the function of each part. Of course after presentations, each student got to enjoy their sweet project.
